Polyol dehydrogenases. 2. The polyol dehydrogenases of Acetobacter suboxydans and Candida utilis . By A. C. ARCUS and N. L. EDSON. (With five figures)	385
Polyol dehydrogenases. 3. Galactitol dehydrogenase and D-iditol dehydrogenase. By D. R. D. SHAW. (With nine figures)	394
A new method for the isolation of ribonucleic acids from mammalian tissues. By K. S. KIRBY. (With one figure)	405
A windowless flow-type Geiger counter for the assay of solid materials containing soft β -emitting isotopes. By T. E. BANKS, L. W. BLOW and G. E. FRANCIS. (With one figure)	408
Some techniques in the assay of tritium. By T. E. BANKS, J. C. CRAWHALL and D. G. SMYTH. (With one figure)	411
Glutamine: a nitrogen source in urea synthesis. By S. J. BACH and M. SMITH. (With one figure)	417
Glutathione metabolism. 1. The glyoxalase activity of mature mammalian erythrocytes. By S. J. KLEBANOFF. (With five figures)	425
The 'malic' enzyme in insect blood. By P. FAULKNER. (With five figures)	430
Enzymic reduction of sugar phosphates in insect blood. By P. FAULKNER. (With three figures)	436
Vitamins in germination. Determination of free and combined inositol in germinating oats. By A. DARBRE and F. W. NORRIS. (With one figure)	441
Effects of radiations on catalase solutions. 1. Kinetic studies of inactivation. By H. C. SUTTON. (With six figures)	447
Effects of radiations on catalase solutions. 2. The protecting action of complexing agents. By H. C. SUTTON. (With three figures)	456
The isolation of iso - and (+)- anteiso -fatty acids of the C ₁₂ and C ₁₇ series from shark (Galeorhinus australis Macleay) liver oil. By I. M. MORICE and F. B. SHORLAND	461
Studies in the biochemistry of micro-organisms. 98. Tritisporin, an anthraquinone colouring matter of Helminthosporium tritici-vulgaris Nisikado: structure and synthesis. By S. NEELAKANTAN, A. POCKER and H. RAISTRICK	464
The oxidative properties of an oxalate-decomposing organism, Pseudomonas OD 1, with particular reference to the synthesis of citrate from glycollate. By G. C. N. JAYASURIYA. (With one figure)	469
Carbohydrate metabolism in citric acid fermentation. 5. Purification and properties of Zwischenferment from Aspergillus niger . By V. JAGANNATHAN, P. N. RANGACHARI and M. DAMODARAN. (With two figures)	477
Two-dimensional paper chromatography of urinary indoles and related substances. By C. E. DALGLIESH. (With three figures)	481
Studies in carotenogenesis. 23. The nature of the carotenoids in the photosynthetic bacterium Rhodospseudomonas spheroides (Arthiorhodaceae). By T. W. GOODWIN, D. G. LAND and M. E. SISSINS. (With four figures)	486
Some studies on catalase in mouse-liver slices. By D. H. ADAMS and M. E. BERRY. (With four figures)	492
Endogenous respiration and polysaccharide reserves in baker's yeast. By L. H. STICKLAND. (With one figure)	498
The Pasteur effect in normal yeast and its inhibition by various agents. By L. H. STICKLAND. (With two figures)	503
Phosphorylations and dephosphorylations in yeast and their inhibition by various agents. By L. H. STICKLAND. (With four figures)	515
The effects of phosphate acceptors, p -nitrophenol and arsenate on respiration, phosphorylation and Pasteur effect in cell-free suspensions. By C. TERNER. (With one figure)	523
The effect of fumarate and of p -nitrophenol on the synthesis of fatty acids in homogenates of the mammary gland. By C. TERNER. (With one figure)	532

	PAGE
The assimilation of amino acids by bacteria. 22. The effect of 8-azaguanine upon enzyme formation in Staphylococcus aureus . By E. H. CREASER. (With five figures)	539
Pyridoxal phosphate as coenzyme of diamine oxidase. By A. N. DAVISON. (With two figures).	546
Estimation of α -keto acids in plant tissue: a critical study of various methods of extraction as applied to strawberry leaves, washed potato slices and peas. By F. A. ISHERWOOD and C. A. NIAVIS	549
The in vitro enzymic hydroxylation of steroids. 4. The role of fumarate and triphosphopyridine nucleotide in the enzymic 11β -hydroxylation of 11-deoxycorticosterone. By J. K. GRANT. (With seven figures)	559
Pentose phosphate isomerase and epimerase from animal tissues. By F. DICKENS and D. H. WILLIAMSON. (With eight figures)	567
The metabolism of tryptophan. 2. The metabolism of tryptophan in patients suffering from cancer of the bladder. By E. BOYLAND and D. C. WILLIAMS. (With four figures)	578
Purification, some properties and the specific biological activity of cytochromes c_4 and c_5 from Azotobacter vinelandii . By A. TISSIÈRES. (With six figures)	582
The effects of salicylate on creatine phosphate and adenosine triphosphate in the isolated rat diaphragm. By M. J. H. SMITH and S. W. JEFFREY	589

Proceedings of the Biochemical Society

Purine metabolism and riboflavin synthesis in Eremothecium ashbyii . By E. G. BROWN, T. W. GOODWIN and O. T. G. JONES	37 P
The formation of tyrosol (2- p -hydroxyphenylethanol) from tyrosine by Saccharomyces cerevisiae . By S. SENTHESHANMUGANATHAN	37 P
The origin of the carbon atoms of cholesterol. By J. W. CORNFORTH, I. YOUHOTSKY-GORE and G. POPJÁK	38 P
The effect of vitamin A deficiency on the activity of the liver succinoxidase system in the rat. By E. R. REDFEARN	39 P
Biosynthesis of rat pancreatic ribonuclease. By V. M. CRADDOCK and C. E. DALGLIESH	39 P
The concentration of the cation carrier in the yeast cell wall as milliequivalents per kilogram of centrifuged yeast. By P. F. DUGGAN and E. J. CONWAY	40 P
The water content of rat liver mitochondria. By M. G. HARRINGTON and H. GEOGHEGAN	40 P
Changes in muscle composition associated with increased Mg levels. By D. HINGERTY	41 P
Net excretion of the Na ions from Na-rich muscle and its relation to the redox pump theory. By M. J. CAREY and E. J. CONWAY	41 P
The effect of deoxycortisone acetate and cortisone on the active uptake of K and excretion of Na from red corpuscles of the rat. By L. O'BRIEN and E. J. CONWAY	42 P
ACTH and adrenal ascorbic acid in the chick. By A. N. HOWARD and B. J. CONSTABLE	43 P
Determination of azide by microdiffusion. By T. G. BRADY and J. M. O'CALLAGHAN	43 P
Purification of mammalian adenosine deaminase. By T. G. BRADY and W. O'CONNELL	43 P
Initiation of fermentation in baker's yeast cells by removal of oxygen. By T. G. BRADY, C. MCGANN and E. TULLY	44 P
A urinary chromogen derived from tea. By W. R. FEARON and W. A. BOGGUST	44 P
The detection of carbamyl phosphate. By W. A. BOGGUST and W. R. FEARON	45 P
The characterization of the biological carbamides. By W. R. FEARON and W. A. BOGGUST	45 P
The action of leaf ribonuclease. By R. MARKHAM and J. L. STROMINGER	46 P
Pyridine acetate buffers for the chromatography of corticotropins on a carboxylic ion-exchange resin. By H. B. F. DIXON	47 P
A vibrating table for occasional use with microdiffusion units and as a general stirrer. By E. J. CONWAY	47 P
